IMPORTANT ACCOUNT INFORMATION

Here's some clarifying information on when your account could become dormant and what could happen.

When does my account become dormant?

Generally, your account becomes dormant if you do not initiate an account-related activity for 12 months for a checking account, 34 months for a savings account, or 34 months after the first renewal for a Time Account (CD). An account-related activity is determined by the laws governing your account. Examples of account-related activity are depositing or withdrawing funds at a banking location or ATM, or writing a check which is paid from the account. Automatic transactions (including recurring and one-time), such as pre-authorized transfers/payments and electronic deposits, set up on the account may not qualify as account-related activity that you initiated.

What happens to a dormant account?

We put safeguards in place to protect a dormant account which may include restricting the following: transfers between your Wells Fargo accounts using your ATM/debit card; transfers by phone using our automated banking service; transfers or payments through online, mobile, and text banking (including Bill Pay); or wire transfers (incoming and outgoing).

Normal monthly service and other fees continue to apply (except where prohibited by law). Your account funds may be transferred to the appropriate state if no activity occurs in the account within the time period as specified by state law. This transfer is known as "escheat." After transferring your account funds to the state, we will close your account and any interest will stop accruing. To recover your account funds, you must file a claim with the state.

For more information, please see your Business Account Agreement, speak with a local banker, or call the phone number on the top of your statement.

We would like to remind you of the following:

Under the ACH Rules, the Bank can return any non-consumer ACH debit entry as unauthorized until midnight of the business day following the business day the Bank posts the entry to your account. In order for the Bank to meet this deadline, you are required to notify us to return any non-consumer ACH debit entry as unauthorized by the cutoff time we separately disclose. The cutoff time is currently 3:00 PM Central Time. If you do not timely notify us of the unauthorized non-consumer ACH debit entry, we will not be able to return it without the cooperation and agreement of the originating bank and the originator of the debit entry. Any other effort to recover the funds must occur solely between you and the originator of the entry.
